Digital Communities Wales

E-Learning

15% (400,000) of adults in Wales are not online. Digital Communities Wales along with our partners at Digital Unite have developed training for front line staff and volunteers to assist those who are digitally excluded. These courses will enable organisations to integrate digital inclusion support into their everyday activities by understanding the barriers that people face and the importance of digital inclusion.

Benefits of distance learning

Unlike traditional face to face training you don't need to dedicate a huge amount of time to learning and development. Its great for remote working, and getting information in bite size chunks.

E-Learning is accessible any time, you can access forums for continued information, and to get advice from fellow learners.

Webinars

Webinars are a really great way to have a quick 30 minute to 1 hour training session with one of our skilled trainers on a digital inclusion subject of your choice, ranging from online safety to inspiring people to get online.
We can arrange webinars to suit your staff hours/ meeting times.
